Hello,

Now that the site is up, parents have been asking for more. In particular, they'd like to access our registration form.

I've attached the Registration Form that we have parents complete each season. Right now, they do it on paper. We'd like you to create a page like this form. As I understand it from talking to one of my friends, we would need a database to store the form information, which will require working with our website hosting service. We'll look into our options but I think that part will have to come later. For now, it'd be enough if we could see the form, try it out, submit it, and see another page showing the information that was entered in the form. That way we know it's working.

We need a way for parents to indicate their agreement. I know you can't physically sign an online form. But I've seen some sites, like for taxes, where there's a space for people to enter their name and a date at the bottom of the form, and there's a sentence that says that by entering their name below, they are hereby authorizing the form.

Also, on another matter, our new parents often have trouble finding where our games are being played. Can you add maps to the game locations on the Game Information Page?

Thanks,

Tom Denton
